Local Hospital Committee Organized

The Provisional Hospital Committee, which body is charged with the preliminary details of the arrangement of meetings, dissemination of Municipal Hospital information, organizing the district for a vote, and so on, hold its first official meeting Monday night last in the Town Hall.

Paul Moreland, representing the Sugar City M. D. was named Chairman, S. I. May, representing the Town of Raymond, was named Vice-Chairman, E N. Peterson, representing the village of Stirling is the third member, and these three chose A.W. Jones, who represents the Board of Trade, as Secretary for the Committee.

An hour or so was spent in a general discussion of the possibilities of the District, probable properties which might be obtained and turned into a Hospital. It was decided by the Committee to make a trip to Cardston in the near future to visit the Municipal Hospital there and to learn about their contract, taxation rates, and various other matters.

TOWN COUNCIL MEETING

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held in the Council Chambers Monday nite. There was a few adjustments made on properties for Taxes and so on, and one or two sales of homes to which the Town held title were dealt with.

The pay roll was passed and ordered paid and the Council voted $100. to the Stampede Committee to assist in the Stampede, this to be the extent of its donation.

COAL BUYERS

Do not get stampeded by false reports. Coal is not rationed, nor will it be for some months. The only determining factor is the ability of the mines to make deliveries. Our local coal Dealer "Bill" Rouse tells us that until further notice he will be receiving a few cars of coal every freight, and every one will be supplied in their turn.

The Country Fair

The wisdom of continuing agricultural exhibitions in wartime cannot be questioned so long as proper emphasis is placed on agricultural matters.

For several years, the exhibit of The North-West Line Elevators Association has been among the most popular features at B class fairs. We estimated that, in 1942, it attracted the attention of about 50,000 persons. It has always combined useful information with attractive appearance, and this year is no exception.

Food rationing has brought home to all of us the importance of agriculture in this war. Inefficiency in farm operations now means not only loss to the farmer, but it actually hinders progress in defeating our enemies. This has been kept in mind in designing the exhibit.

Through the generous co-operation of the Entomological Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, the exhibit includes a very interesting display concerned with warble flies. Specimens of damaged leather, figures on actual losses and control methods are included, and a new bulletin will be distributed.

The central part of the exhibit portrays the movement of food from the farm to the fighting forces, and one wing is devoted to emergency rations used in the army, navy and air force. Other features are weeds, soil erosion and 'sound' moving pictures.

We hope to welcome our readers at Swift Current (frontier celebration), Calgary, Regina, Yorkton, Melfort, Lloydminster, Vermilion, Vegreville, Red Deer, North Battleford and Prince Albert.

Quite a number were in Lethbridge Tuesday evening for the Mart Kenney dance. The Arena was packed to capacity and everyone attending reported a very enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parker were entetained by the telephone workers, past and present members of the staff, at the home of Miss Myra Nielson of Cardston, prior to their leaving for Grande Prairie. There were 31 employees present from this district, which includes Cardston, Magrath, Raymond and Glenwood.

Women's Institute Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the W. I. met at the home of Mrs. Kirkham on June 10th. The opening song, 'O'Canada," was followed by Flag Salute. Mrs. June Allred led the members in repeating the creed.

Roll call was answered by each member giving their favorite salad recipe. The minutes of last month's meeting were read and approved. A letter from the Dept. of Extension was read, setting August 16th as the date for our demonstration in Raymond.

Discussion followed about holding meetings through the summer months. Mrs. Rolfson made a motion, seconded by Mrs. Allred, that we meet in July. All members are requested at that meeting to hand in their donation for the yearly jam fund.

Mrs. W. Tollestrup then played a piano solo which was very much enjoyed, then the members joined in community singing.

Mrs Otto, who was a special visitor at the meeting, invited the Raymond members to the Warner convention on June 25, and gave a brief outline of the program. We all enjoyed a special article on Post War Air Service in Canada, given by Mrs. Otto.

Pres. Mrs Lamb then made arrangements for any members wishing to attend the Warner convention.

Before the meeting closed Jeannine Wilde sang two solos which the members appreciated very much.

Mrs. Lamb announced our July meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Rolfson.

After singing "God Save the King," lunch was served by the hostesses.

Dr. Dobry Speaks At Rotary Meeting

Dr. J. J. Dobry of Cardston was speaker at the Rotary meeting on Monday reporting the recent District Conference at Regina, Sask, where Raymond unfortunately failed to have a representative.

The Doctor brought out a few important points connected with the Conference, which he said was definitely streamlined and adapted to the spirit of the times.

One Club reported that each week they endeavored to have a man in uniform home on leave as a guest at their lunch eon. They felt that this would create an interest in the young men in Rotary and would mean future members for the Club, and it would also keep the Rotarians in touch with the men in the service and their hopes of the future.

Another point stressed was post-war reconstruction, and speakers urged that everything possible be done to create better understanding between Canada and the United States, so that we would have a better understanding of each other's problems and be better able to work unitedly toward their solution when after the war questions arose.

Another point was a better understanding between peoples of different races, flung together because of the war. Speakers voiced the opinion that jealousies and hatreds should be overcome and a real effort made to understand the viewpoint of the peoples who have been subjected to new and unfavorable conditions because of the war, and to try and make their condition as pleasant as conditions and reason would allow.

A hearty vote of thanks was given the visitor for his interesting and informative address, and carrying out a point of his talk, that a fifteen minute talk should end in fifteen minutes, he quit on time.

NEWS NOTES

Don't forget our Stampede July 1st and 2nd. The Commit tee says bigger and better than ever.

A. E. "Finney" Terry is busy now hauling lumber from one of the sawmills in the Beaver Mines district. There is a greater demand for hog houses, chicken houses and so on than the local lumber yard can fill from their quota.

Geo. Attwood of Wardner, B. C. was a visitor in Raymond this week. This was George's first trip back since he and the family moved away several months ago.

Wm. C. Stone has been in B. C. for a couple of weeks past. Will is recovering rapidly from the effects of his operation and hopes the stay in the mountains will benefit him.

Royal Canadian Academy and Handicrafts

Armorial Bearings of Canada

For the first time since the Royal Canadian Academy was established, in 1882, space in the Annual Academy Show for 1943 will be allotted to Handicrafts. These will be assembled at Montreal from all over the Dominion by the Canadian Handicrafts Guild for the Guild's own Show, and a selection will be made by an Academy Jury for the Academy's own Show which will be held in October at Quebec and then transferred to Montreal in November. In addition to the usual crafts, special prizes are being offered by the Guild for a Victory Banner, suitable for display in churches and reproducing the Armorial Bearings of Canada in embroidery, applique, painted silk or woven tapestry. At the suggestion of the Academy, a new category has been introduced of Corporate Exhibits which may be submitted by such corporate bodies as ecclesiastical orders, convents and schools of art and handicraft administered under provincial authority and like institutions, the exhibits to be submitted by the head of the institution or school. These corporate exhibits may include designs for craftwork as well as executed works. The Canadian Handicrafts Guild, which has its headquarters in Montreal, was incorporated in 1905 and has branches or affiliated Societies in each of the Provinces of Canada. It was delegated last year by the Interdepartmental Committee of the Federal Government at Ottawa to assemble an Exhibit of Canadian Handicrafts for the Women's International Exposition of Arts and Industries at Madison Square Garden, New York. A number of the craftworkers in Canada have won international recognition, such as Geneva Lent, of Calgary, for her embroidery; Doris le-Cocq, of British Columbia, for glazed pottery exhibited at the Royal Academy in London, and Kjeld and Erica Deichmann, potters of Moss Glen, New Brunswick. The Canadian Guild of Potters had an excellent exhibition of the work of its members recently in the Toronto Art Gallery. The Province of Quebec has been a strong supporter of the renaissance in handicraft, and has organized weaving in rural districts so extensively that there are now 60,000 looms and 100,000 spinning wheels in use in that Province.

Principal J. O. Hicken was away from school most of the week as a result of injuries to his back. The substitute teacher of the school took his grade.

Jim Weaver was in Calgary this week, where he enlisted in the Air Force. He is to report at Toronto on July 19th, and will specialize in instrument repairing.

Officials of the local Air Cadet Ssuadron are now away at training camps, having left Tuesday morning. C.O. Kitchen is in Macleod, John Landysheff is in Medicine Hat, and R. D. Purdy is in Lethbridge taking special courses for two weeks.

Munitions Minister Howe announced this week that an Atlantic Air Mail service would be started early in July to hasten delivery of mail to members of the forces of the Dominion. Lancasters will be used for this service.

Honor students of the Public School grades were dismissed Wednesday at noon, and in the afternoon all Public School students were guests of the staff at a Free show at the Capitol. Needless to say this was one feature of the year's school work that the pupils thoroughly enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Ehlert have spent a week visiting friends and relatives in Raymond. They will be returning to Calgary the first of the week. Rex is feeling alright again now after his serious illness from pneumonia earlier in the spring He is attached to the Army Dental Corps at Calgary.

Raymond is one of the few Alberta towns that will as usual hold its Stampede and Race Meet. We note by the weeklies that because of lumber shortages and other causes several towns have been forced to cancel their rodeos.

We hope Raymond people will plan to attend the Big Show and invite their friends to come and spend the National holiday with them and attend the Stampede. It's always good and the committee plan to make this year's one of the best ever held.

Workmen were busy several days this week installing the equipment in the cheese curing room at the local Cheese Factory. This piece of work has been delayed for some months past, but with the increase in the production of cheese & the warmer weather it is very essential that this room be put in operation and this work is about completed now.

WHAT MAKES A TOWN...

This is a queston that each of us might ask ourselves, and in seeking the answer, determine if we might do more in any one respect to make ours a good town. Most people will agree that business, the circulation of cash amongst the citizens, markets for home-grown products and so on, contribute greatly to the building of a good town. If such is the case, then Raymond is very favored.

The Sugar Factory, even during the idle Factor yseason employ quite a staff of men whose monthly wages are spent in Raymond, in the main. In the campaign season, between three and four hundred people are employed directly and indirectly by the Company for quite a period, and their salaries go for the purchase of food, clothing, coal, payment of taxes, entertainment and so on. Then too, prove his, ask the Town for civ- for the past seven or eight mon ths our Cheese Factory has been putting a steadily increasing amount into circulation for eggs and milk sold daily at the institution. It also furnishes em loyment directly and indirectly, for quite a few people, and egg payments, made now for each delivery, and for milk, each two weeks, give producers ready cash for grocery, clothing and fuel bills.

These things bring a respon sibility to all of us. Loyalty to Raymond and her indutsries and business establishments should be our slogan. No town can grow and progress if money ... in that town is spent else where. We want a better town, and the quickest way to get it is to improve our own property, encourage our neighbor to improve his, ask the Town for civ- A improvements as fast as finances will permit, and then remember, that Raymond's bnsinesses, large and small depend for their success on you and I. A good town doesn't grow, it is made, and indivinal loyalty and work for the Town is what will make it.

"WE NOT ONLY HAUL 'EM - WE BUILD 'EM TOO"

ALTHOUGH we, the Canadian railways, are carrying vastly more traffic than at any time in history, we are also building guns and tanks, ships and shells. Our machinery of production hums day and night. Implements of war roll from our plants in steady streams. They're made by the railways . . . hauled by the railways . . . the railways of Canada.

Only your railways, ready and capable of meeting the emergency before it occurred, can handle this double "must" . . . mass transportation and mass war production.

Your railways met a mighty challenge in Canada's period of construction. They are rendering dual service in War's period of destruction. They will be needed more than ever in the reconstruction period of peace. They will meet that challenge, too!

Your Income Tax....

MINISTER OF NATIONAL REVENUE
CANADA

FELLOW CANADIAN

I would like to remind the two million taxpayers of Canada of their obligation to file a 1942 Income Tax Return before the 30th of June.

This year, the forms have been simplified so that they can be completed with a minimum of time and effort.

The Income Tax dollars that Canadians pay are necessary in our present struggle. They are an investment in our future peace and security. They are fighting dollars....Victory dollars.

Income Tax is fair to all, as each person is taxed in accordance with his ability to pay.

There is no easy way to win a war. Almost half the costs of this war must be paid by taxes. I know that the Income Tax is not a pleasant burden, but I also know that to win the war, Canadians are willing to fulfil their obligations....to pay the price and to shoulder their responsibilities with the same unbeatable spirit as shown by those who have gone from our shores to fight.

FARM FOR VICTORY

HOW TO REACH ALBERTA'S HOG QUOTA

FARM ACCOUNT BOOK

FARM LABOR APPLICATIONS

In last week's article three factors were suggested as responsible for the failure of farmers to produce as many pigs as they had estimated; labor shortage, poor accommodation and avoidable disease.

Good accommodation is essential in raising hogs. However this point should be stressed: good accommodation is not necessarily expensive nor elaborate. Straw sheds, "A" pens, converted granaries, electric fences, and pasture make up the accommodation of some successful hog raisers in Alberta. The claim that hogs can't be raised because lumber and hog wire cannot be obtained is not justified. Whatever accommodation is supplied should include the following essentials: provision for a dry clean bed, ventilation and freedom from germ infested ground or refuse. Pigs in a dry well ventilated straw shed are better off than those in a building if the walls and floor are damp and manure accumulates.

To make the point clearer I shall outline the set-up of one very simple hog plant visited that is giving fair success. The farmer keeps 5 to7 sows and breeds them twice a year. His buildings consist of 4 single and 2 double portable colony houses, a winter feeding shed built of slabs and straw, a small frame building used for dry sows and the boar in winter, a portable granary converted into a self feeder, and a granary with space for a chopper. Watering equipment consists of a dug-out, a pump and a open board conduits to large feeder and nearby yards.

Spring litters were farrowed out in the colony houses which were banked with straw. A small oil stove was hung inside in case of a blizzard at farrowing time. As soon as good weather arrived the sow and litter with the colony house were moved to clean pasture. Panels and electric fences were used to make the yards. A creep made from stub pannels was built to fed the young pigs separately from the sows. At weaning time the sows were removed and the young pigs left in the same quarters until finished. Self feeders were placed inside the lots to supplement the pastures.

The dry sows were placed in another pasture and supplied with a portable shed for shelter and troughs for limited feeding

The colony houses were grouped in the fall and banked with straw Fall litters were farrowed in them and left there to weaning time. At weaning they were moved into the winter fattening shed which was divided into two compartments for pigs of different sizes. In front were two small yards containing the large feeder, half in each yard. The feeder was a converted granary which allowed the pigs to feed from inside. The feeding space was divided to allow the pigs from each yard to feed separately. In the end of the feeder space was a water tank with heater and two drinking fountains. The tank never froze up and the fountains could be cleared of ice each morning The pigs came from the sleeping quarters to the feeeder and are fed and watered sheltered from the storms.

In the whole set-up nothing was costly nor elaborate but it was home made from materials easily available under wartime restrictions. I do not mean to condemn the use of well-constructed hog barns and brooder houses. Figures from the Univerity Farm in Edmonton show that more economical gains can be made by pigs in good barns than those raised outside. However if such are out of reach,make-shift buildings can be built which will serve. Experience has shown that fine buildings will not solve all the problems. In fact raising pigs inside has more difficulties than outside feeding. The writer recalls one farmer who built a fine hog barn except that he left out the ventilation system thinking it was not essential. When he filled it with hogs in winter moisture collected on the walls, the floors became damp, & the air foul. He opened a door at one end to correct this and drafts swept the wet floors. Pneumonia broke out and about two thirds of the pigs died. Naturally he was pretty discusted with his fine building.

Building plans and bulletins on hog raising are available at the office of the District Agriculturist.

FARM ACCOUNT BOOKS

Farming has become a business. It is too involved to carry the figures and details in mind. Most successful farmers keep simple records and accounts. A new farm account book has been published by the Dominion Dept. of Agriculture. Copies can be obtained by sending 10c. to the Extension and Publicity Division, Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Student Help for Farmers

There is a limited supply of farm labor in the form of High School students who will be available from the time they finish exams until October 10. Under the Dominion-Provincial agreement on farm labor, farmers have first call on this help However the Employment offices are flooded with applications from other industries for these students. Unless farmers get their applications in very soon they will be released to those industries. Farmers who intend to use student labor should apply to the District Agriculturist at once and be prepared to use the boy as soon as available. The conditions under which this help may be obtained are outlined under the Alberta Boys Land Corps.

PROPER LUBRICATION ESSENTIAL TO A STEPPED UP PROGRAMME OF PRODUCTION

The big problem of the Canadian farmer, today is not "where can I dispose of my farm produce still greater volume?" Every farmer knows that he could sell far more food than he produces. For, the demand for foodstuffs, both here and overseas is increasing. Intensified methods and increased efforts seem to be the only answer but, in order to do this, every piece of machinery used on the farm must be kept up to par. In order to do this, proper lubrication is a first essential. For, proper lubrication is the farmer's first wall of defence against friction and wear. Without proper lubrication, his farm equipment will soon be on the scrap heap or in the shed for repairs. And, every farmer knows that in these days, loss of farm equipment means a serious setback to any programme of stepped-up food production. There are many outstanding lubricants on the market. In fact, there is a right type of lubricant for every piece of farm equipment in use. And, farmers should keep an adequate supply on hand. To assist farmers, not only in the selection, but to assure prompt delivery, McColl-Frontenac Oil Company Ltd. has a Representative in this district who is prepared to advise farmers on the operation and preservation of farm machinery.

Saving MONEY

Farmers and their families, today, are patriotically saving both money and materials—to provide for their continuing usefulness as suppliers of food to the United Nations, to provide for their own future financial independence AND to buy Victory Bonds and pay Income Taxes.

In common with other Canadians, farmers are carefully saving and salvaging EVERYTHING, because in this total "survival war" all things must be conserved, especially money. Determined, systematic saving by every citizen is part of the national price of VICTORY.

You have our co-operation through the services of Savings Accounts and Banking by Mail (which saves time of coming to town—saves gasoline and tires).

A Savings Account for every member of the family is a sound idea, especially in war times. Write for our folder, "How to Bank by Mail".

51,321 individual shareholders own Canada's Chartered Banks. The average holding is 28 shares. Most of these shareholders are Canadians.

The wide distribution of bank ownership is indicated by the fact that 36,574 individuals, living in all parts of Canada, hold shares in the Chartered Banks of Canada. Of the remaining shareholders, 8,987 live elsewhere in the British Empire.

Some further facts about Canada's Banks:

There are 4,369,740 savings deposit accounts in the Chartered Banks of Canada, averaging $391 each. Safeguarding the funds of depositors is a primary function of commercial banking. Banks keep themselves in such a position that anybody going to the bank to withdraw his savings can get his money. Banks, like any other business, exist because they provide service which a community needs and is willing to pay for at a rate which will yield a reasonable return.

Every day, bank loans are helping Canadians in all walks of life and in all parts of Canada to profit from their individual enterprise and industry.
